VOL. 26.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 21, 1886.

NO. 67.

NEVADA NOT REPRESENTED.

The Silver State says Nevada is unrepresented in the United States Senate at the present session. As neither of our Senators is in Washington, no complaint is made. It will not do for the Republican papers to howl about the absence of Senator Fair, nor for the Democrats to attempt to make political capital by the absence of Senator Jones, for, as they say in enemie games, "honors are easy."

While it is true that the interests of the State are not suffering from its being unrepresented in the Senate, the fact is apparent to all that if the Senators from other States acted like those from Nevada there could be no session of Congress. If it is necessary that Congress should meet, it is the duty of every Senator and Representative, not prevented by illness, to attend it, as each and all should share alike in its duties and responsibilities.

Itch Trees

A special from Washington says, Matthews, the Italian importer from Albany, N. Y., and appointed by the President Recorder of Deeds for the District, is sucking a very rich plum. There has been a great boom in Washington real estate within the year past, and fees are now averaging $100 per day. On November 24th Matthews taken in $250. At the present rate of fees the office is worth from $35,000 to $45,000 per year. But it is not likely that Matthews' good fortune will continue much longer, as it is given out authentically that Cleveland does not feel like incurring the hostility of the Senate by re-appointing Matthews. The President will therefore send in a new name. The lucky man, it is rumored, will be Haggard, Register of Wills in the district.

The Lyon County Times remarks

While there is considerable agitation in the boom for Nevada, and measures are being taken to attract capital and settlers to our State, why not boom Lyon a little. You can travel over the State and not find a better county to settle in, provided you mean business. There is a large area of land that could be made to produce almost anything that is raised in any country. This is one of the finest agricultural sections, to be found. The finest vegetables in the world are raised along the Carson and Walker river, where irrigation can be obtained. When last tool the first premium at the World's Fair was given in this country and it outshines the world. Our mining industry is well on the way to a great future. More iron is equal to iron for the mines and will make and irrigating system whereby the land can be watered so that it will produce crops to supply the market. This is about all any country wants, but when this boom for Nevada takes place, don't let it be forgotten that Lyon county is in Nevada.

What a pity it is that the imported candidate for the Senate did not take the imported editor of the V & T along with him on his recent tour of the State. In this way they both would have had an opportunity to get acquainted with the needs of the people among whom they have so recently dropped their carpet bags — Virginia Chronicle.

Nevada can afford to look complacently on the passage of the Inter State Commerce bill. But the California newspapers are licking like steers against it. —Enterprise.

Livermore tells a good story of Mother Bickerdyke, the well-known army nurse.
The old nurse had been following up a dissolute soldier she had known in the Union army, and had returned home wet and tired at night. "I remonstrated, 'my dear friend, why do you waste yourself on such a worthless fellow as he?'" Turning to me with a flash of her blue eyes and a straightening of the curves of her yet beautiful mouth, she gave me this rebuke: "Mary Livermore, I have a commission from the Lord God Almighty to do all I can for every miserable creature who comes in my way. He's always sure of two friends—God and me."NEW VERSION OF THE LORD'S PRAYER.
—Red Bluff Sentinel: The teacher in a Binghampton school whose habit it was to begin the morning work by repeating the Lord's prayer, surprised her pupils beyond expression the other day by beginning: "Now I lay me down to sleep.
I pray Thee, Lord my soul to keep."
The teachers don't do it that way in Shasta county. They say: "Now boys, if I catch any of you whispering or making a noise, I'll take you by the nape of the neck and the seat of the breeches and drown you up and down till you can't sit still for a week."J. W. Richards and J. M. Sanford were up from Stillwater yesterday.Remember "Naval Engagements" at Nevada Theater Saturday night.The Supreme Court will meet on the 27th inst.THE COMING OF THE FLORENCES.—Mr. and Mrs. Florence, whose success throughout Europe and America has made for them a reputation few American actors enjoy, will make their debut in this city at the Nevada Theater tonight, presenting for one night only, their renowned comedy success, "The Mighty Dollar." Possibly no play has ever been written that has gained so much notoriety as "The Mighty Dollar." Its author is Mr. B. E. Wolff, one of Boston's most brilliant newspaper men, and it has been presented for the past twelve years, the Florences appearing in their original characters of the "Hon.
Bardwell Slope" and "Mrs. General Gilliby" over 3,600 times. It is difficult to write of the Florences without mentioning what has at some time been said of them by some. Mr. Florence is probably the most versatile artist now on the stage, equally at home in high or low comedy. An Irish brogue, a French or German dialect fits his tongue as well as his own native vernacular.
In all his characters he has none to which he is so peculiarly suited to as that of the "Hon. Bardwell Slope," M.
C., in "The Mighty Dollar." It requires but little exertion on his part to play the role. A distinguished critic has said of Mr. Florence in that part:
"While Bardwell Slope is a Congressman of the period, fond of a shay at what jobbery is passing, his grotesqueness is far more notable than his want of principle. He manifests a rugged generosity of heart and is unconscious that better things are expected of him, and he seems to be a production rather than a perversion of the times—an in-digeneous being, whose person is scarcely adapted to adorn a delicate drama but is designed for predicaments and merriments. Mr. Florence's envelopment in the part is a miracle of cleverness, the old swallow-tailed statesman's coat, the stock and standing collar, the Western beard and coarse hair, the cut of the boots, the watch seals, reveal to us the Congressman from the Kohoah district as he may be seen from home.
Not vulgar or even coarse, because his ignorance is suffused with unconscious jollity, he employs a moli of speech which is already quoted about town, and whatever he announces is true or untrue is so "by a large majority." Mrs. Florence is a creature of broad and talented powers, and as Mrs. General Gilliby, she puts a picture so full of human nature, so complete and fleshed as a certain class of society woman, that once seen she will never be forgotten as long as that type lives. As a handsome stage dresser, she has no equal, wearing no dresses on the stage except those made for her by Worth, of Paris. The sale of seats is progressing at Thurston's and an unusually large audience will bid them welcome. The following is the cast:Hon. Bardwell Slope, from the Kohoah District..... Mr. W. J. Florence Mrs. General Gilliby, who has lived so long abroad..... Mrs. W. J. Florence Col. Dart, a railroad king..... Mr. Jas Head and reliable test for silver ore: Pulverize the ore and roast in salt over a slow fire. This will give chloride of silver. Take the roasted ore and put into a strong solution of salt, and let it stand 24 hours. The result will be chloride of silver in solution. Drain off the solution carefully, evaporate and place the residue in a test tube. Then add nitric acid and you obtain nitrate of silver. Put the mixture thus obtained into salt and water, and the white precipitate is pure chloride of silver ready

THE PROPOSED INDIAN SCHOOL.

Nevada Indians to be educated.

For the past two years or more Supt. of Public Instruction, C. S. Young, has been industrially at work to secure for Nevada a National Industrial School for our Indians. The following official letters will explain just the attitude of the Government toward the project:DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, CARSON CITY, Nov. 21, 1884.Hon. John D. C. Atkins, U. S. Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C.Dear Sir: U. S. Senator Jones and Congressman Woodburn, of this State, have taken an interest in a National Industrial School for Nevada Indians. I infer from what they say that under certain conditions the Interior Department would aid the project. Under instructions from the citizens of this city I had a conference with you at Washington some months ago relating to this matter. What would be expected from Nevada, or from the citizens of Nevada, that our Nevada Indians may have the educational advantages offered at Hampton, Carlisle, Forest Grove, Albuquerque and other similar schools? As our State Legislature will be in session soon I should be pleased to hear from you on this matter so that your proposition may be, in my official report, presented to that body. I have the honor to be your humble servant,C. S. YOUNG, State Supt. Public Instruction.DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, (Indian School Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4, 1884.C. S. Young, State Supt. Public Institution, Carson City, Nevada.Sir: Referring to your letter of the 22d ultimo, in the matter of an Industrial School for the Indians of Nevada, you are advised that this office fully appreciates the desirability and importance of establishing such a school, and will co-operate with your State authorities in the proposed work. If your State should provide suitable buildings and sufficient land for a good industrial farm, it is believed that the necessary outfit would be provided and the school therafter be supported by the Government. Yours respectfully,J. D. C. ATKINS, Commissioner.

THE DEPOT AND PALACE.

WHAT A CHILD'S PALACE THINKS OF THEIR.The Chicago Hotel World, of December 11th, has the following to say of hotels in this vicinity:There are few places worthy of note between Ogden and Sacramento, a distance of about 700 miles. At Humboldt the tourist obtains a good dinner, something he has been praying for, miles before he arrives there. Mr. L. A. Blak-lee is to be credited with successfully contending with the hungry "hump" that arrives at Humboldt. The Humboldt river flows through this part of Nevada, and it is a cheering sight after traversing the hundreds of miles of scorching burned waste. In this region, water means wealth and prosperity. Millions of acres of soil would be very productive if it rusted water. This condition is brought about in the beautiful vale of the Truckee river bottoms. Here thousands of acres are irrigated and the result is rich farms and cattle ranges, on which feed some of the finest cattle in this country. Reno is a pretty place, and, leaving out the Indians encamped near there, is inhabited by an intelligent, happy and prosperous people. It is almost encircled with mountains in which are rich mines; it has the State Seminary, State Asylum, and is the leading city of the State. From this point a railway connects with Virginia City, known the world over for its mines. The distance by railway is fifty-two miles, by carriage twenty-two, and a carriage always heads off the trap in a race to Virginia, when they both start together. The only hotels of Reno are the Depot Hotel and the Palace. The Depot Hotel is conducted by Messrs.
Parry & Fitzgerald, and it is only due these gentlemen to say they conduct a most excellent hotel, both as far as the railway dining room is concerned, and for guests who desire rooms. A skillful Eastern cook is employed, and the table shows his efforts. Mr. Fitzgerald was formerly an Illinois hotel man, and since conducted the Palace at Reno.
The new proprietors are hard-working men, who are succeeding finely with the Depot Hotel. The Palace Hotel is the largest in Reno, and is popular with the home trade. Mr. Al White, the proprietor, is popular, and at home in his hotel when among his guests. The through traveler should stay over a day or two at Reno, run over to Virginia City, and recuperate for the one day and night's ride that still separates him from San Francisco. He will never regret it.A SILVER ORE TEST.—An experienced
